SAN FRANCISCO SCENE OF LARGE STRIKE RIOT

Attempt to Run Street Cars Followed by Shower of Missiles and Then Shooting Began.

Eight Men Wounded, Some of Them Fatally, and Scores Injured During the Melees.

San Francisco, May 7.—James Walsh, who was injured in a street car riot, died tonight. No hope is held out for the recovery of Tom Buchanan, one of the wounded strikers.

San Francisco, May 7.—The strike of the 1,700 union motormen and conductors of the United Railroads developed this afternoon in a riot, in which more than a score of persons were severely, some fatally wounded, and others to a lesser extent. At 2:30 o'clock the company made its first attempt to resume the operation of its system by sending out seven passenger cars manned by between thirty and forty strike-breakers wearing the uniform of car inspectors, and each carrying a .38-caliber revolver strapped around his waist outside of his coat. The start was made from the company's barns at Turk and Fillmore streets, where a crowd variously estimated at from 2,000 to 5,000 men and boys was congregated.

Twenty-seven policemen, five mounted officers and several sergeants, under the command of Captain Mooney, were on patrol guard.

First Shot Fired.

The appearance of the cars in Fillmore street, from which they were switched into Turk street, was the signal for an immense outburst of jeers and howls. Before the cars had gone one block they were made the targets of showers of stones and bricks. In a few moments every pane of glass had been smashed and several of the armed operatives had been struck, cut and bruised. At Turk and Buchanan streets especially fierce attacks were made on the foremost car. A guard on the rear platform answered the flying stones with a pistol shot. The bullet struck one of the union sympathizers in the arm.

This happening transformed the crowds into a wild mob, and thenceforward for twelve blocks a pitched battle was fought. The strikers and their friends, aided by hundreds of onlookers, kept up a running shower of missiles; the guards on board the cars responded with fusillade after fusillade of pistol shots.

Eight men received bullet wounds, some of which will prove fatal, among those thus injured being a detective sergeant and a patrolman.

Finally a dozen or more of the guards were taken under arrest by squads of reserves from the central station, and a union crowd boarded the rear-most car and started it back to the barns. Arriving there, the strikers charged that revolver fire was opened on them from the barns. A non-union man threw the switch at the corner of Turk and Fillmore, and the derailed car shot into the sidewalk, maiming two men whose names have not been ascertained. In the stampede that followed here, scores of women and children on the outskirts of the mob in Fillmore street were hurled to the pavement and trampled upon.

Superintendent Wounded.

The appearance of relief squads to reinforce Captain Mooney's men resulted, about 4:30 o'clock, in the partial dispersing of the crowds. A current rumor has it that Superintendent Chapman, who spent the forenoon and early afternoon at the Fillmore street barns, was seen about 5 o'clock driving rapidly away on Golden Gate avenue in an automobile that was dashed with blood. There is yet no confirmation of the rumor that Mr. Chapman was wounded. At the Central Emergency hospital at Golden Gate avenue and Gough street a large crowd of union men and their friends, waiting eagerly for the messages that drift out from moment to moment from the bedside of their wounded companions.

Reserves on Duty.

Practically all of the reserve forces at the various precinct stations have been called out and are now patrolling the neighborhood of Fillmore and Turk streets, where is the greatest congestion. It has not yet been learned whether the company proposes to make a second attempt to run cars tonight, but the general belief is that because of this afternoon's tragic happenings further effort to resume operation of the system will be withheld until the officials of the company are satisfied that the police are in a position to afford protection to property and life.

Following is a list of injured in the riots:

General Emergency Hospital.

Thomas White, lacerated scalp.

James Walsh, shot in the head; will die.

Police officer Harry Sater, shot through shoulder.

F. Joy, laceration of cheek.

J. Krohn, shot in shoulder.

William Slattery, contusion of foot and head.

J. Arnes, contusion of knee.

C. Jahn, shot in throat.

N. Leish, shot through chest.

N. Granville, laceration of face.

G. A. McNaughton, shot in forehead.

Tom Buchanan, shot in abdomen; will die.

C. W. Forrester, contusion of face.

Detective Sergeant Bell, shot in chest.

Clara Barton Hospital.

Al Palm, shot in neck; may die.

Mount Zion Hospital.

W. C. Krooks, shot in foot.

Clash in Forenoon.

The bloody events of the afternoon were preceded by a less serious clash at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, when a

FEAR OF FURTHER RIOTING.

Company Will Make Another Attempt to Run Cars Today.

San Francisco, May 7.—That the bloody events of today's street car riots may be repeated tomorrow with even more tragic results, was the fear expressed tonight when it was made known that the United Railroad's program for Wednesday includes another attempt to resume the operation of its system.

This attempt, according to General Manager Mullaly will be made sometime in the forenoon. He declined to state at what hour or to discuss the company's plans in this respect.

Police Armed With Rifles.

Mr. Mullaly said that when attorneys for the United Railroads visited the central police station this evening to request the addition to the list of strike-breakers under arrest for shooting strikers and their sympathizers, Chief of police Dinan said:

"Tomorrow I shall arm the police with rifles. If any strike-breakers start any shooting from the cars, they will be shot in turn by the police."

"I can hardly credit this statement," added Mr. Mullaly, "but it comes to me direct and authentically."

Thirteen strike-breakers were arrested. Three of them were released on bail and the remainder were held awaiting developments.

Death of One Victim.

James Walsh, one of the strike sympathizers, who was shot this afternoon from one of the attacked cars, died at the central emergency hospital tonight. No hope is held out for the recovery of Tom Buchanan, one of the strikers. He also is at the Central Emergency hospital. A bullet penetrated his abdomen and punctured the intestines two times.

Calhoun's Manifesto.

President Calhoun tonight issued the following:

"To the people of San Francisco: The time has arrived for the enforcement of law and order. The humblest citizen in this community has a right to work. The issue has been squarely raised: Shall striking ex-employees, their friends and sympathizers, paralyze by force and violence our street railway service. Shall mob violence, rule, or shall law be enforced? Shall individual liberty be preserved? When the United Railroads attempted to resume the operation of its cars today its employees were assailed by a fierce and violent mob; dangerous rioting ensued; many men were injured. I appeal to you to preserve the peace. My company will spare no effort to operate lawfully and peacefully the operation of its cars and will not be driven to compromise with wrong, and it will fearlessly defend its rights. The issue rests with you."

Defends Strike-Breakers.

He issued also to the press a brief epitome of the day's events, calling attention to the fact that no shot was fired by the strike-breakers until after they had been repeatedly made a target of missiles thrown by the crowd.

In a letter to Mayor Schmitz, President Calhoun recites the facts and the acts of the mob, the failure of the police to disperse the mob, and requesting that the city's chief executive take steps to protect the company's property henceforth.

To this letter Mayor Schmitz replied that he had notified the police that "peace must be preserved at any cost."

A duplicate of Mr. Calhoun's letter to the mayor was sent to Sheriff O'Neill and to this latter replied that he had been informed by Mayor Schmitz that the latter had considered the police force competent to cope with the situation. The sheriff answered that he is not authorized to appoint special deputies, but that his office would hold itself in readiness to assist the police any way it could.

Orders of Chief Dinan.

Chief of Police Dinan said tonight: "There will be no more indiscriminate shooting should an attempt be made."

BRADLEY CASE

WILL GO OVER TO SECURE HELP

Illness of Judge O. W. Powers Given as Reason by Counsel for Defendant.

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, May 7.—The case of Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, charged with first degree murder of former Senator Brown of Utah at the Raleigh hotel in December last, will probably not be tried before the fall term of court. Attorneys Wells, Hoover and Wells, local counsel for the accused, will tomorrow morning ask Justice Stafford to allow the case to go over until fall. It is thought the prosecution will not strenuously object.

Illness of Judge Powers.

When United States Attorney Baker called the case to the attention of Justice Stafford this morning, Attorney Hoover, of counsel, asked that nothing be done today, saying that by tomorrow morning he will have prepared an affidavit setting forth as a reason for the postponement of the trial the illness of Judge Orlando Powers of Salt Lake City. According to Hoover, Judge Powers, by reason of his illness has been unable to take any of a number of depositions of witnesses who cannot be brought to testify, and whose testimony is of vital importance to the proper defense of Mrs. Bradley.

Statement of Counsel.

Mr. Hoover denied a published statement that he and his associates have expressed any dislike of reported statements of Justice Stafford in his address to the Vermont State association, in which Stafford denounced the unwritten law. Attorney Hoover said:

"Counsel for Mrs. Bradley have not discussed and decline at this time to discuss the alleged remarks of Justice Stafford concerning the 'unwritten law' and 'temporary insanity' as a defense in criminal cases. The case of Mrs. Bradley is not based on the 'unwritten law,' but evidence which will be adduced on her behalf will present a defense which is well recognized by written law and adjudged decisions of the highest state and federal courts of the union."

HEARING POSTPONED.

Indianapolis, May 7.—The hearing of testimony in the suit brought by the government in the federal court against the members of the so-called "drug trust," was today postponed until tomorrow. It was agreed that a decree be filed tomorrow against all of the ninety-two defendants granting the perpetual injunction asked for by the government. This will end the litigation.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER.

Springfield, Mo., May 7.—The jury in the case of Garland Moore, who stabbed Clara West to death because she flitted him, returned a verdict this afternoon finding him guilty of murder in the second degree, and fixing his punishment at twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

FATAL KENTUCKY FEUD.

Middleboro, Ky., May 7.—In a pitched battle on Sugar Island creek early today, the result of a feud, John Howard and Martin Green were killed, Eleanor Howard fatally shot and Jim and George Green badly wounded.

PUT INTO PORT

TO SECURE HELP

War on Board British Steamer Between Chinese Coolies and Russian Immigrants.

San Diego, May 7.—With 321 Chinese stevedore passengers at war with 212 Russian stevedore passengers, all on their way from Vladivostok and Shanghai to Matalay and Guaymas the British steamer Maori King put in here today in distress. A virtual state of mutiny exists on board the vessel and the ship is now lying in quarantine, guarded by immigration and custom officials, while waiting a settlement of the matter.

Captain Duncan who sighted the pier at Coronado, thought he could land there and get into shoal water. The sea was calm, but the tide was falling and the first report was that he was astounded. He finally entered the harbor and reported his condition.

Trouble began soon after the steamer left Shanghai between the Chinese and the Russians. On Friday, last, one of the Russians struck a Chinaman and laid his head open. The 900 Chinese then attacked the 200 Russians and before they could be separated fourteen persons were wounded.

Captain Duncan, aided by British Consul Hitchcock, hopes to get a guard on board to help him on the rest of his trip.

Could Not Be Positive

Captain Macklin's Description of His Assailant Tallies With That of Knowles.

Fort Sill, Okla., May 7.—In the court-martial proceedings here of Corporal Knowles, colored, charged with an attempt to kill Captain Edgar B. Macklin at the latter's home at Fort Reno, Captain Macklin today gave a description of his assailant which tallied with that of the defendant. The witness, however, could not positively identify Knowles as his assailant, as the assailant's features, he said, were partially hidden by a handkerchief used as a mask.

Lieutenant Nichols of the Thirteenth infantry, testifying regarding the lay of the land about Fort Reno, where Captain Edgar B. Macklin was shot on Dec. 22, 1898, stated that the chances were 12 to 1 against an intruder being detected. Knowles is charged with assaulting Captain Macklin with intent to kill.

Jesse Fugua, the boy who found clothing tallying with that worn by the assailant, according to Captain Macklin, identified the apparel, and said it still bore the quartermaster's tag when found.

Testimony given by Mrs. Johnson, Captain Macklin's cook, corroborated the officer's statements except that she said the assailant carried a regular service revolver instead of a bought weapon.

Lieutenant Herringshaw is acting as judge advocate, and Lieutenant Hensley is counsel for Corporal Knowles. Captain Edgar of the hospital corps at Brownsville, Tex., will be called as a witness.

MODUS VIVENDI

IN REICHSTAG

Tariff Arrangement With United States Did Not Fulfill Hopes of Members.

Berlin, May 7.—The reichstag today passed the first reading of the commercial modus vivendi between the United States and Germany and referred the agreement to a committee.

When the house took up the modus vivendi, Vice Chancellor Count von Posadowsky-Wehner expressed apprehension that the agreement at many points did not fulfill the hopes entertained by the members. Its essential features were almost exclusively administrative provisions made by the United States, which, if carried out in the spirit of the arrangement made between the United States and Germany, would permit of the hope that many difficulties complained of would be moderated or removed.

Regarded as First Step.

The federated governments regarded the modus vivendi as being only the first step toward reaching an understanding with the United States upon a much broader basis. American duties when compared with the German, he said, are extraordinarily high and in many classes of goods wholly exclude imports. Therefore Germany hoped that further negotiations would bring a more just recognition of her claims. The United States should remember that Germany is one of her best customers.

Referred to Committee.

Count von Schwerin-Loewitz, conservative, said the modus vivendi by no means corresponded with the spirit of reciprocity as interpreted in the United States. What advantages the bill gave to German industry were definitely less than those Germany gave to the United States.

The agreement was eventually referred to a committee of twenty-eight, which, it is expected, will report in a few days.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Philadelphia, May 7.—Felled in his attempt to hold up, with the aid of a companion, two trolley conductors in West Philadelphia early today and fearing that he had killed a policeman, Harold S. Jones, aged 16, shot and killed himself. His companion, G. H. Geddis, aged 18, was arrested.

Jones and Geddis met the conductors on their way home from their night's work and Jones, drawing a revolver, ordered them to throw up their hands. Instead of complying, the conductors showed fight and Jones and his companion fled, pursued by a policeman. Jones turned and shot at the policeman without effect and then backed up against a horse and sent a bullet into his own head.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

San Francisco, May 7.—W. E. Foster, a merchant of Point Arena, Humboldt county, was arrested today for the murder today at the police station. The charge grows out of the death of Jennie McNeill, a young girl of Point Arena, who died last week in a local hospital. The complaint was sworn to by the girl's mother.

EL KALAH'S MEN TAKE THE TOWN

Salt Lake Shriners, in White and Gold, the Observed of All Observers at Los Angeles.

DRILL TAKES PLACE FRIDAY

COMMANDER CARR PRESENTED WITH JEWEL.

(Special to The Herald.)

Los Angeles, May 7.—The sons and daughters of Salt Lake City did not cross the hot sands from the city by the salt sea in vain. Their city is very much on the map today, all Shrineroom knows of the hustlers of El Kalah patrol and pretty much all of Southern California knows, then now, too. Their turnout as escorts to the imperial officers was a triumphal march. The same ovation was repeated all along the line of march tonight in the electric pageant. It was hurrah for the saints and hurray for the sinners at every other corner.

Jewel for Carr.

One of the prettiest ceremonies of the day was the presentation to Captain F. H. Carr, commander of El Kalah patrol, of an emblematic Shriners' jewel. The presentation speech was made by J. M. Marriot, past potentate, amid great cheers.

John Critchlow and F. C. Schramm were the life of the party on the trip west, and they are keeping up their record as jolly good fellows. Of Critchlow it is said that his lights went out when the gas was exhausted, but only the initiated can read between the lines. The meaning is kept a secret. Both of these men were today formally initiated into the ancient test Order of the Milkers of the local Arabs.

Salt Lakers See Sights.

Today the Salt Lake party journeyed to the ostrich farm, thence to Pasadena in autos and trolley cars. They saw the millionaires abodes along Orange Grove avenue, and partook of dainty lunches at the big tourist hotels as guests of Pasadena.

Much interest is manifested in the competitive drill by the crack patrols of the country, which takes place Friday. The El Kalah patrol, with their beautiful white and gold uniforms have attracted much attention on the streets, and the members have made so many friends since arriving in Al Malaikah oasts that Commander Carr and his twenty officers and men will undoubtedly receive a tremendous ovation when they march upon the field to perform their evolutions. First Lieutenant F. R. Richmond and Second Lieutenant F. A. Gustin are confident that El Kalah patrol will do itself proud.

IMPERIAL COUNCIL BEGINS.

Thousands of Shriners Assemble in Gorgeous Array.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.—The festival of Shriners began this evening with the first of a series of electrical parades in which several thousand nobles of the Mystic Shrine participated.

Nearly 10,000 Shriners were in line, and nearly all the visiting patrols, attended in full Oriental costumes, were included. Eleven divisions of the parade, composed of various Shriners' patrols and delegations, preceded the display of electrical floats, designed to represent precious stones. Some of the floats were decorated with thousands of lights, and the glittering pageant, proceeding along streets hung from end to end with thousands of colored lanterns, was cheered and applauded along the entire line of march.

Potentate George A. Filmer of Islam temple, San Francisco, was grand marshal of the parade. His aides were Frank Evans of Des Moines, H. G. Getchell of St. Joseph, Mo., John C. Slater of Seattle and John G. Hunter of Dallas.

Imperial Council Opened.

The opening session of the thirty-third imperial council of the Mystic Shrine was held today and, for the first time since their arrival, the thousands of Shriners from every part of the country were assembled. Officers and representatives of the council gathered at the imperial headquarters at the Alexandria hotel and were escorted to the Scottish Rite cathedral, where exercises were held by all the Arab and Bedon patrols in full uniform. Rarely has there been presented such a splendid spectacle as that of the long line of men garbed in brilliant Oriental attire, who led the way to the meeting place. Followed by scores of automobiles and carriages, carrying the officers and delegates, the procession was over a mile long.

Routine business engaged the attention of the imperial council at its initial session. So great was the attendance that the streets in the vicinity of the Scottish Rite cathedral were absolutely impassable, and for over an hour the patrols in unbroken line enclosed the building.

Welcome and Response.

After a song by a quartette of Los Angeles Shriners, illustrious Potentate M. H. Flint of Los Angeles, who was in charge of the preparations for the convocation, arose to deliver his address of welcome. The potentate was cheered loudly by the visitors and his every reference to features of the reception was applauded by delegates who have already partaken of California hospitality.

Mayor A. C. Harper of Los Angeles, a member of the Al Malaikah temple, welcomed the Shriners on behalf of the city, and at the conclusion of his address presented Imperial Potentate Alah P. Clayton with a massive gold key to the city.

In response, Mr. Clayton expressed his gratitude for the eloquent and gracious welcome extended both by the Shriners and citizens. He referred to southern California as more beautiful than the fairest oasis of Egypt, and invoked the continued blessings of Allah upon Al Malaikah temple.

Routine Business.

The remainder of today's session was devoted to official reports and routine business.

BELL CAPTURED IN KANSAS CITY

Another of the McWhirter Bunch Men Is in the Toils.

CATCH MAY BE IMPORTANT

TESTIMONY EXPECTED TO CORROBORATE PARRENT'S.

Kansas City, Mo., May 7.—William St. Clair, alias W. W. Bell, alias C. C. Cunningham, alias F. F. Matthews, was arrested here tonight by a deputy sheriff from Salt Lake City, on the charge of conspiracy and grand larceny in connection with the alleged robbery of two Scotch tourists, Alexander and William McWhirter, who were robbed of $9,000 in Salt Lake City by a band of swindlers who, it is alleged, enjoyed the protection of the police there.

The prisoner said he would resist extradition proceedings. He said that he traveled 10,000 miles and spent $1,500 trying to escape arrest.

St. Clair or Bell, as he is better known in connection with the McWhirter hold-up, has been the missing link in connection with the McWhirter robbery, and the man of all others in the gang whom the sheriff has been the most desirous of capturing.

According to the story of the robbery as told by the McWhirters, is the man who conducted them to police headquarters after they had been robbed of $9,000, and took them in to see Chief Sheets. He posed in the hold-up as an officer and later on as a man who knew the plans, whether to follow his pal's example and turn state's evidence, or to stand pat.

Was Parrent's Pal.

He was the pal of W. H. Parrent, who turned state's evidence in the Sheet's case, and the man whom Parrent retains on two different occasions, paid Chief Sheets for police protection. The significance of Bell's arrest can better be determined when he makes known his plans, whether to follow his pal's example and turn state's evidence, or to stand pat.

In case Bell corroborates the testimony of Parrent, it is believed a strong case can then be made against Chief Sheets if he is recaptured. The testimony of Parrent, though incriminating, was in the main uncorroborated, and through Bell it is hoped by the county officials to strengthen their case as to insure conviction.

The capture of Bell was made by Deputy Sheriff Edgington, after a chase by various deputies over the entire western country after Bell and Parrent went to Denver, where Parrent was arrested some weeks ago by Sheriff C. Frank Emery. Bell then left Denver and went to Omaha, closely pursued by Deputy Sheriff Joe Sharpe. Bell became aware that the officer was on his trail and succeeded in giving him the slip.

Work Done Quietly.

Ten days ago a new clue was discovered, and in order to avoid publicity, Deputy Sheriff Edgington, who had been at work on the case ever since the robbery on Sept. 19, last, was not put on the trail, but left Sheriff Edgington to send after the fugitive. It was given out that Edgington was sick and Deputy Sheriff Irwin was put in his place as night jailer. It developed later that Edgington was out of town, and last night it was discovered he was in Kansas City. With the capture of Bell, the alleged uncorroborated case was under arrest—"Dr. Jim" Donaldson, W. H. Parrent and Bell, Larry and Jack O'Brien are still at large.

SILENT SMITH'S WILL.

Bulk of the Vast Estate Is Left to Two Nephews.

New York, May 7.—The will of the late James Henry Smith was made public tonight. The value of the estate is estimated at about $1,000,000. Smith left his near kin receive legacies, and there are bequests to two local hospitals. The will provides for a direct heir, one of this it is said there is no remote possibility. His nephews, George Grant Mason of Aberdeen, S. D., and William Smith of Chicago, are the principal beneficiaries of the estate, receiving two-thirds and one-third respectively of the residue. His cousin, James C. Keith of Vancouver, gets $50,000.

George Grant Mason was until recently division superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. William Smith Mason is a bank official at Evanston, Ill. The will, it is understood, will be offered for probate at Gosen, Orange county, tomorrow.

BOSTON CONSOLIDATED BONDS TO BE RETIRED

(Special to The Herald.)

New York, May 7.—Notice has been issued to holders of the debenture bonds of the Boston Consolidated company that they will be retired Nov. 1, at $105 for each hundred pound (English) bond. About 100,000 pounds, or $2,500,000, have already been converted into stock, and it is expected that the other half will be converted before November 1.

BRYAN'S HOME DEMOCRATIC.

Lincoln, Neb., May 7.—In a total of 5,241 votes cast at the Lincoln city election, Mayor Francis Brown, Democrat, received a majority of thirty-one votes over Alexander Hutton, Republican. The Republicans elected all the remaining city officers by majorities ranging from 39 to 500. White W. J. Bryan took no part in the campaign, his name was used by the Democrats as a rallying cry, on the ground that if he is the Democratic candidate for president next year his home city should have a Democratic mayor.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Seattle, Wash., May 7.—A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of John Riplinger, former city comptroller and defeated candidate for mayor of Seattle last year. The complaint alleges embezzlement of city funds. Riplinger is now in Honduras.

business. The election of officers and the selection of the next place of meeting will take place tomorrow. It is expected that St. Paul will secure the next imperial council, but a movement has been launched in favor of Seattle. While the council was in session the ladies who accompanied the officers and delegates were taken to Pasadena in three special trains carrying about 400 passengers. Citizens of Pasadena had provided for the entertainment of 10,000 visitors, and by noon it was estimated that fully that number were in attendance at the reception held at the Hotel Green.
